CROTONA TO MARY DAVIS

DAUGHTER OF WATERCRESS AND COLONIAL RUNS SPARKLING RACE IN EAST.

Triumphs Over Some of Fleetest Sprinters in Training—Golden Sand Graduates from Maiden Class by Taking Juvenile Race.

New York, May 17.—Mary Davis was winner of the Crotona Handicap over the three-quarters of a mile straight course at Belmont Park this afternoon. She ran the distance in 1:11½ to beat Magazine and old Dreamer. The race was a smashing good one and the Watercress filly had something left at the end after coming on in the last furlong. Besom, the pacesetter, quit badly, and Magazine was forced to do his best to stand off Dreamer, which came with a great rush on the outside. Field Mouse, August Belmont's representative in the race, ran disappointingly and pulled up a poor last.

The tabulated history of the Crotona Handicap since 1900 is as follows:

Year.	Winner.	Jockey.	Val. Time.
1900	Mark Check	A.W.L. Clawson	$1,200 1:14
1901	King Lief	T. Burns	1,310 1:15
1902	Old England	O'Connor	1,390 1:14
1903	Lux Casta	Odom	1,800 1:14
1904	Hurst Park	Odom	1,730 1:14
1905	Wild Mint	T. Burns	1,680 1:13
1906	Aeromat	Kadke	2,040 1:13
1907	Suffrage	W. Miller	2,200 1:12
1908	Jack Atkin	C. H. Miller	2,070 1:08
1909	Harrigan	Butwell	1,600 1:11
1910	Mary Davis	M. McGee	735 1:11

Run at Morris Park previous to 1905.

Apart from the stake feature the card was rather ordinary, though the steeplechase brought about a good contest, and went to Black Bridge, the favorite, after King Castle had broken down at the last fence. At the time King Castle was giving the winner a game battle and might have beaten him to the finish but for the mishap. Brendan was the one of the starters to fall, and he did not go down until three jumps from the finish of the four-furlong course.

Golden Sand showed herself to be a smart filly when she won from a big band, for she repeatedly swerved from one side of the track to the other, but always with speed enough to run her erratic course in front. Warbler, the one to run second, was at 50 to 1 in the betting and the race suggests that she is a good one. In the race for maiden colts, Towton Field was equal choice with Feather Duster and won handsomely enough. Anall was best and won better racing fortune, having beaten him home.

Fashion Plate, most recent winner of the Metropolitan, is one of the latest victims of the epidemic of influenza that is sweeping the racing stables on Long Island. The horses in the Cassatt stable are all reported to be seriously affected. Usually the Withers sweep was reported to be in improved condition today, but it is not thought probable that he will start in the Withers.

Dandelion is on the sick list. The old campaigner is suffering with gastric trouble and was in a serious condition today.

The Withers Stakes, for three-year-olds, one mile, to be run for the thirty-seventh time next Saturday, bids fair to be an interesting contest. If all the best eligibles face the starter, the quality of the field will excel that of any three-year-old stakes recently run in this country. Usually the Withers has been rather easy picking for some star colt, for in years gone by such great horses as Colin, Frank Gill, Delhi, Compute, The Parader, Jean Beaud, Ottagio, Handspring, Domino, Trummay, Sir Dixon, Hanover and George Kinney were among the winners. James R. Keene's Hilarious was victorious last year, easily disposing of Joe Madden and Fayette, while in 1908 Colin took the measure of Fair Play and King James. Colin's share of the stakes was $12,000, the top notch, but the winner of next Saturday's race will take down about one-fourth of that amount.

J. R. Keene's Sweep is reported ailing and Mr. Keene probably will have to depend on his other eligible, Grasmere. S. C. Hildreth's Dalmatian, by Ethelbert—Ionis, is highly regarded by his owner and a majority of turf regulars. Dalmatian has developed into a superb three-year-old and Hildreth thinks the colt may show many of Fitz Herbert's qualities. Dalmatian was coughing last week, but he seems to have recovered and Mr. Hildreth will probably start him.

The Silver Brook Farm has a formidable candidate in The Turk, by Hono—Gracelle. This colt has started twice since the opening of the season, winning the Arverne and Williamsburgh Stakes in the most impressive fashion. The Turk, in those events, displayed bulldog courage as well as phenomenal speed and beat Grasmere, Everett, Sandrian, King Olympian, Duke of Ormonde and Prince Imperial, all Withers eligibles. Prince Imperial, the Oriental, Dicoletta colt, has improved materially since then, however, for his race in the Metropolitan Handicap last Friday, even though he carried the proverbial feather, was a sterling performance.

James McManus will start his Meddler colt, Rocky O'Brien, and thinks he will win. The Ormonde Stable's Duke of Ormonde, by Oriskany—Santa Bella, a fair sort of a horse, will be among the starters. R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s eligibles are Candleberry and Radium Star. August Belmont's colors will be carried by Starbottle, a chestnut son of Hastings—Sunfish, which comes from Garnet, S. C., in splendid trim. Others in the list of eligibles are S. C. Austin's Charlie Hargrave, by Solitaire II.—Aya; John E. Madden's Hampton Court, by Galore; Dorothy Hampton; James Hewitt's Pulka, by Ozden—La Polka; B. L. Marks' Turret, by Cunard—Tower of Castles; Quincy's Sandrian and Everett, and Barney Schreiber's Sager, a promising son of Rannockburn and Miss Marion.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

The Grand Prize of Paris of this year will be run Sunday, June 26.

A concession for a $250,000 race track in Monterey, Mexico, has been obtained by local capitalists. It will be a mile track.

Handbridge has developed obstinacy with increasing age, and it now is a difficult matter to induce him to go to the post for a race.

The management of Delorimier Park at Montreal, wired the New Louisville Jockey Club last week asking for the rental of some mutual betting machines, but could not be accommodated.

The Ontario Jockey Club will bar all telegraph and telephone wires from the Woodbine track at Toronto during the approaching meeting, in order to effectually carry out the provision of the new Canadian racing law which prohibits the dissemination of racing information to poolrooms.

The horses which M. Garrity, of Garrity & Dunlap, is training at Churchill Downs, seem to be in extra good condition. Of the six in Trainer Garrity's string, three—Early Tide, Sugarmaid and Mauretanla—have already won, and two others, Fantastic and Ocean Queen, have been placed. The remaining member of the string is Barney Oldfield.

CONDENSED HISTORY OF THE LADIES STAKES

Last year the Ladies Stakes was worth $6,630 net to the winner, James R. Keene's Maskette, being the greatest value in its long history. This year it will only bring to the owner of the winner $1,520, the smallest return in its forty-three years of existence. Even at that figure it is now well worth running for and will be as heartily contested as it would be if ten times more valuable. There is something more than money in winning a race of such historic associations. Few of the high-class mares of the last forty years failed to contend for it and it is now the longest-established stake race for three-year-old fillies of the American turf, having first been run at Jerome Park as far back as 1868. The record of the event is as follows:

GALLOPS AND ARRIVALS AT WOODBINE.

Toronto, Ont., May 17.—With the sound of the bugle only about a week away the preparation of the horses training at Woodbine shows daily a closer approach to the condition of fitness that is necessary for the winning of races. The Dymont stable's promising three-year-old, Chief Kee, was sent a mile that developed the best time of the season for one turn of the track. With jockey Moorhouse up he went a mile in 1:42½, finishing out a mile and eighth in 1:56½. The first half was run in 50 and three-quarters in 1:16. Fort Garry went five-eighths with him. A good mile was shown by Robert Cooper in 1:46, and Plaudmore went a shade faster. The steeplechasers, Nat B. and The Shaughran, went a mile in 1:47, and the latter finished a mile and a quarter in 2:17.

Of the Platers the Segrum trio, Tollendal, Jane Shore and Carrie Milner, followed. Seismic an easy mile in 1:51. The Valley Farm's Comola went with Glimmer a mile in 1:47½ and a mile and an eighth in 2:01½. Noble was trailing them. Farmer was accompanied by Wm. Pitt and followed by Whipup a mile in 1:47 and a mile and an eighth in 2:01.

The ten horses belonging to R. J. Mackenzie, whose trainer Whyte raced in California and at New York, have returned to their Woodbine quarters. Fort Johnson is recovering from the injury received when he was cut down in a race at Oakland, and the others are in good order. Desperado is in Winnipeg Jockey's stable, accompanied by the shipment, which consisted of these horses: Fort Johnson, Michael Angelo, Elfin Beau, Radiation, Don Antonio, Fountain Square and the two-year-olds Peccavi, Dunc Campbell, Melton Street and Laurier. Amos Glimmer, with twelve of his own horses and three for other owners, arrived from Baltimore. The shipment comprised the following:

Amos Turney—Martin Doyle, Theo Cook, Sig. Selwick, Eli Soo, Charlie Ball, Dick Wiggs, Captain Gonne, Kirkpatrick, Apple Prince, Mt. Adams and Mattie Kernan.

E. M. Mitchell—King Commoner and Beau Chilton.

T. P. Downs—Olive Ely.

Arrivals from the north swelled the number of occupants of the Woodbine stables, and accommodation in the neighborhood is now scarce. Among the recent accessions are:

Mode Nicoll—Crawford, Clem Beachey, Ferand Cecilian, Saraband, Mapleton and Myrtle Marian.

P. M. Civill—Creel, Elgin, Shapdale, Zacatecas.

P. J. Malone—Blair Bagley and Colonel Jot.

G. H. Whitney—Henry Walbank, Henry Hutchinson, Plain Annie and Jim Mulvehill.

O. Hak—Kemp Ridgeley and Rejactable.

G. H. Marlin—Class Leader, Alice King, Albert Star and Dr. Lee Huffman.

E. Reynolds—Brown Tony.

Jerry Chorn—King's Guinea.

George Richings—Montclair.

Jockeys J. Howard and Upton are attached to the Malone and Nicoll establishments, but Howard will continue riding at Louisville until the end of the week.

Mr. Davies' horses will probably come in from Thorncliffe Farm at once and take up quarters in "the red barn" at Woodbine, where they have stabled for many years. There will be but one King's Plater in the lot, the three-year-old filly Frolic, but one of her kind means much. This daughter of Ailes d'Or and a Meddler mare will run a mile and a quarter, and probably run it so well that few of the field to start on Tuesday of next week will defeat her. The Thorncliffe horses are doing as well as they look, and their appearance could not be improved on.

What was thought by the Valley Farm Stable of the respective capabilities of the five nominations for the King's Plate is best indicated by the fact one of them was also entered in the Toronto Cup, the King Edward Cup and the Woodstock Plate. The King Edward distance is a mile and a quarter, the same as the King's Plate, and the others are a mile and an eighth. The one thus distinguished from his stable companions is The Commoner—Placena colt, Farmer. He may or may not prove worthy of that distinction, but he is the only Plater and the only Province-bred entered in the cup races. Lots of people are looking for "stable information," and in this case it is plain for all men to see. As to its value time will tell, but it can not fail to make an impression when an experienced trainer like John Nixon, with such trying-tackle in his stable as Glimmer, Shimonee, Charlie Gilbert and others, puts a maiden into cup races that close as late as the first of May.

LOUISVILLE HAS DOWNPOUR

CHURCHILL DOWNS COURSE DRENCHED AND MUD RUNNERS PROFIT.

Merrick, Favored by the Changed Track Conditions, Finds It Easy to Win the Colonel Stakes

—Favorites Fare Well.

Louisville, Ky., May 17.—Heavy rains during the morning hours, followed by intermittent showers during the afternoon, served to reduce the attendance and mar the racing at Churchill Downs today. The Colonel Stakes, at three-quarters of a mile, with selling conditions, and carrying the net value of the winner of $670, went to J. C. Milam's Merrick. His well-known liking for the going caused him to be installed as favorite, and he showed a better performance than in previous starts here, wearing down his opponents with ease during the final furlong. Donovan outstayed All Red for second place.

Favorites were successful in most of the races, the exceptions being Tony W. in the second and Ben Howe in the closing dash. The advantages both of these secured at the send-off contributed materially to their success. F. J. Pons' Font was an overwhelming choice in the race won by Ben Howe, but Braunon's weak handling following a bad start eliminated him from serious contention. After the finish L. Kelly, owner of Warden, and M. Strauss, trainer of O. K. Herndon, lodged claims for Font. Mr. Strauss obtained him for $900. The crowding which came soon after the start in the fifth race was responsible for Little Rajah's failure to show to advantage.

With Joe Morris and Topland withdrawn from the third race, Eyebright only had to canter to land the prizer. His victory was the first success that Edward Porter, his owner, has scored during all the years that he has been coming to Churchill Downs.

Jockeys Deavenport, Seville and Glasner joined the brigade of insurgent riders during the afternoon and were each suspended for three days by the starter.

Jockey Kennedy was given permission by the starter to ride Gypsy King in the stake race.

G. Reif's string of horses will be shipped tomorrow to New York. Jockey Page will remain over until the investigation of his ride on Merrick is concluded. If exonerated, the youngster will leave for his home in California, where he will take a long rest before resuming the saddle. His contract with the Reif stable has but short time to run and he is at present negotiating with Henderson & Hogan to enter their employ the coming fall.

Considerable pressure is being brought to bear by influential parties to gain for John Marklein a re-bidding before the Kentucky State Racing Commission, with a view to having his license restored.

Anavri fell soon after finishing in the stake race and Mountain, his rider, suffered a bruised arm.

Today's winning combination tickets, consisting of Merrick, Incision and Ben Howe, brought their backers $349.50 for each investment of $2.

The present race meeting at Churchill Downs is proving to be the most successful ever given by the New Louisville Jockey Club. Up to date the meeting has far exceeded the expectations of the local officials, of horsemen and those interested in the turf pressed is regarding the walk-up system of starting in operation under a recent rule of the Kentucky State Racing Commission. It is a system calling for two schoolings for horses, one to learn to break properly and the other to walk up like a cavalry charger on parade. With a good actor the system works well but seven out of ten of the racers on any track are high strung and hard to manage under any condition, while in the hands of an ordinary jockey such a horse does pretty much as he pleases. The new rule has greatly handicapped the starters' work at the barrier since its adoption.

The selling race war so long waged between trainers Will J. Young and Fred Luzader is a thing of the past both having buried the hatchet in the gratification of their mutual friends. Several fellow-trainers got the two together and they shook hands, promising to leave the past behind them from now on. Their misunderstanding of a season or two back has cost the two much money, as most of the run-ups on one another that they participated in were profitable to other owners rather than themselves.

MOVEMENT FOR MISSOURI RACING.

St. Louis, Mo., May 17.—Barney Schreiber and associates are backing a movement to re-establish racing in Missouri. They propose to submit to the voters of the state at the fall election a bill to legalize the pari-mutuel system of betting. The bill is to be submitted through the initiative and referendum, provided a sufficient number of signatures can be obtained. The promoters opened offices here today, from which petitions for signatures will be distributed.

INCIDENTS OF RECENT ENGLISH RACING.

Elizabetha's Chester Cup—Bayardo Narrowly Escapes Defeat for Chester Vase—Darling's Success.

London, Eng., May 6.—Following the excitement attending the running of the Two Thousand Guineas and One Thousand Guineas, as well as other events of lesser but still considerable importance at the Newmarket Spring meeting, the racing at the old-fashioned but long-established Chester meeting seemed somewhat tame. This, of course, was due to the regularity with which the leading horses were through thick and thin. So far as the good people of Chester and vicinity were concerned, the sport was of absorbing interest. In token whereof it is officially announced that the attendance on Cup day was 45,250 and the gate receipts $48,575. The Chester meeting was formerly free to all comers except the tenants of the stands and betting rings, but is now an enclosed course with an admission charge, so the foregoing figures will serve to show that the Chester meeting, while not so highly important as formerly, brings very profitable returns in the way of money.

The Chester Cup was formerly the medium of heavy ante and tremendous coups were brought off in its running now and then by the old-time plungers. With the gradual decline of that form of betting the Cup decreased in importance and of recent years it has more than once failed to fill at the regular time of closing for entries.

enforcing a re-opening and a second closing. There was no trouble this year in this respect. There was a good entry list and twenty-one horses went to the post, the largest number since so far back as 1867.
The greatest field numerically in the history of the Cup was in 1852, when Joe Miller, carrying 66 pounds, won from forty-one competitors and it was necessary to start the horses in two lines across the track in order to effect a start. Joe Miller drew the inside place in the first line and it was an item in the gossip of the time that his diminutive jockey had number one in his chubby fist before he dipped it into the bag of numbers, as well as afterwards.

This year Mr. H. S. Goodson's Marco Fraser, carrying 96 pounds, was a good favorite, but he fell lame in the race and when its two miles and a quarter had been traversed, Red Walker's four-year-old Diamond Jubilee filly, Elizabetha, 95 pounds, was first by four lengths with Sir Peter Walker's filly, Accurate, 99, second and J. A. de Rothschild's mare, Lanching, third. None of the heavy-weights had a look in. Lagos finding his fourteen-pounds penalty for winning the Great Metropolitan Handicap at Epsom an insurmountable obstacle.

On the first day of the meeting Bayardo and Danny Maher between them contrived to give the horses' backers some extremely anxious moments.
He was a 5 to 1 favorite for the Chester Vase at a mile and a half, and despite the price, was heavily supported on the principle that it was "just like finding it." William the Fourth, making his first start since his defeat for the Grand Prix de Paris last year, carried on the running, the Maher being far in the rear with Bayardo.
Maher was cut off and defeat seemed impending, but in a final desperate effort Maher got him up and won from William the Fourth by a head. It was a close call and led to the suggestion that some of the Maher's backers would too long in his supreme confidence in Bayardo and lose a race with much trouble to follow in consequence. The first race of the same day was won by W. Harvey's filly, Ute, with Lord Lonsdale's American-bred filly, Kincab, by Kingston—Gingham, second. Ute was bought in for $3,500, next day Lord Lonsdale's horse was objected against it on the ground the entry was neither made by the owner, nor by his authorized agent at the time of entry. After an investigation the objection was sustained and Ute, being disqualified, the race went to Kincab. It was an unlucky debut on the turf for Ute's owner, she being the first horse he has trained with the new import.

F. Darling, who succeeds the American trainer, Walker, as trainer for the German stable of Messrs.
von Weinberg, made an auspicious start at the Berlin meeting a few days ago by winning three of the seven races of the card of Sunday. Jor won the Eroffnungs Rennen, Morgenrot the Im-Renner and the Silberner Renner. On the following day Fella won the Jungfernen Rennen for the stable and Droll ran a dead heat with Blaus-trumpf for the Edgare Rennen, and in the Gold Whip Ladylike ran second to the Graditz Stud's Abendluft. J. Childs was the stable's jockey in each instance.

The leading winning stallions up to date are:
Marco, four races, value £7,784; William the Fourth, three, £4,917; Grey Leg, five, £2,734; Rock Sand, five, £2,025; Collar, five, £1,867; Tre-mond, five, £1,813 5/8; Laveno, five, £1,720; Tre-denis, one, £1,673; Cyllene, four, £1,607; Wolf's Craven, five, £1,552; Symington, three, £1,344; St.
Frusquin, six, £1,290.

Racing in Belgium is threatened with the loss of an excellent sportsman in the person of M. Ribaucourt, the Roubaix owner, who trains with Breze at Zulte, owing to the decision of the stewards at the Bolsford meeting. As in France, there is a distinction between the amateur and the professional American seat. M. Ribaucourt ran two horses in the Prix d'Arenberg, Coq sur Mer and Hakon. The latter was out with a pace-making mission, and showed the way, giving up the rails at the distance to his stable companion. Boston (in the colors of M. Mathieu) and Fanfan (in those of M. Bergmann) were close up. Fanfan and Boston swerved on to Hakon. Objections were lodged, and proofs were offered by the stewards that both Hakon and Fanfan had quitted the positions assigned them at the commencement of the race. Hakon, which had simply pulled out, let up his stable companion, was deprived of the benefit of second money and was distanced, whilst his companion, Coq sur Mer, was placed second instead of first, and the race was awarded to Boston, with Fanfan third. One could possibly understand from the standpoint of the stewards the distancing of Hakon and Coq sur Mer, but it is hard to grasp why one of M. Ribaucourt's horses should be pegged back one while his stable companion was distanced for alleged interfering.
It is to be hoped that M. Ribaucourt, who is very popular, will be persuaded by his friends to refrain from withdrawing his colors.

D. Maher still leads the riders of the year, not only in percentage, but in number of winning mounts as well. In fact, he is now so far in advance of his nearest competitor in the latter regard that he is not likely to be soon overtaken. To date the records of the leaders in jockeyship are:

WHITNEY STABLE POPULAR IN ENGLAND.
When in the list of scratchings given forth to the public on Monday last "out of Epsom engagements" —all Mr. Whitney's horses" formed part of the news considerable disappointment was expressed by those who had prepared themselves to go to the meeting "to follow Joyner." The announcement, however, that the stable had only a few two-year-olds engaged, and these apparently possessing no great prospects of winning, it was only in keeping with the sports-manlike policy pursued by Mr. Whitney and his trainer that they should be eliminated without delay. In these days of commercialism in racing it is a real pleasure to contemplate the openness and straightforwardness with which the Balaton Lodge campaign is conducted.

One is often puzzled overnight to know upon what horse this or that particular stable having more than one representative engaged will depend; but not so in regard to the American team, for invariably all are scratched with the exception of the one chosen to do duty, and thus all uncertainty on the subject is removed. This is a policy which is bound to commend itself to everyone desirous of seeing the great game carried out in accordance with its best traditions, and the connections of those stables which for years have been suitably epithet are dubbed "clever" might well ponder over the outcome. It is a truism that the habitual racing man dearly loves a mystery and would rather take 6 to 4 or 2 to 1 about a horse trained in one of such establishments, than accept 10 to 1 about the chance of an antiquated horse being successful in a year's running. It is to be hoped that the followers in the footsteps of Volodyovski will not be long in arising. In such event Mr. Whitney and his popular trainer may prepare themselves for a welcome, the warmth of which will prove to them how dearly the Britisher loves a good sportsman.—London Sporting Life.

OAKLAND OUTSIDERS CONTINUE TO WIN.

San Francisco, Cal., May 17.—Outsiders had another inning at Oakland today. One of the upsets came in the third race, when Edwin T. Fryer, with apprentice Lindhorst in the saddle, won at odds of 25 to 1. Meltondale ruled favorite, but failed to
a 20 to 1 chance, cantered home in the fifth.

Chester Krum proved an easy winner in the feature race in which he beat Daddy Gip and Balrovia.
Rosamo opened a 6 to 5 favorite for the last race, but receded to 3 to 1 on the strength of a report that he was lame. The price on Lady Panchita was reduced to even money, but later support materialized for Rosamo and he closed equal favorite with the filly. Rosamo won easily from Marburg and Glennadene, two outsiders. Kirschbaum has been granted permission to ride for all owners.

Jockey Kent was suspended for ten days for misbehavior at the post in the first race.
The entry of Sam Barber has been ordered refused owing to the connection of jockey Otis with the ownership of the horse.

J. M. Crane has purchased Maxing and Good Intent and Barney Schreiber has sold Zwick to Dave Henry.

The best horses in training have been entered for the Decoration Day Handicap at a mile and an eighth to be run Monday, May 30. Among those named are Bubbling Water, Chester Krum, Inclement, Follie L., Bishop W., Duke of Milan, John Louis, Orbicular and Eddie Graney.

Redem, which has been showing good form at Oakland, was purchased as a yearling at the Burns & Waterhouse sale for $50. Banorella, a stable companion of Redem, that has been racing well at Oakland, was selected by Trainer Strate from among a lot of Schreiber's cast-offs.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.
A Daily Reader, Chicago, No.
J. S., Cincinnati, O. See reply to "Gus." W. S., Chicago. The wager on Count de Oro lost.
W. G. D., Mt. Clemens, Mich. The sum due was $28.

Mrs. E. W., Milwaukee, Wis. So far as we can learn all companies.
O'C., Chicago. Hanbridge was in the starter's control and bets stood.

A. J., Chicago. Richard Croker's colt, Orby, won the Epsom Derby of 1907.
A. S., Toronto, Ont. May 13 it was Lady Pan-chita, which finished third.

J. K., Cincinnati, O. The parlay was void as to Zeus and won on the other two.
Gus, Chicago. The parlay lost. Parlays are decided strictly by the running of the horses named.

F. C., Chicago. When one backs a jockey's mounts, he backs only the horses ridden by the jockey.
C. V., Chicago. Parkview would have paid something less than even money place if he had finished first or second.

V. S., Hamilton, Ont. Away's last race was at Jacksonville, Fla., April 15 last. Do not know her present location.
S. T., Springfield, Ill. The bet on McAndrews lost. He was in the field and had he won would have paid the field's price.

J. D., Pittsburg, Pa. It is strictly a matter between yourself and the bookmaker. Outside of the fact that he accepted the bet all that would be coming would be the parlay place price on Abe Sluskey.

W. H. D., Baltimore, Md. Seemingly when the transaction came down to Everard there was but $22.60 coming to you, which was not sufficient to execute the commission on him. Of course, if the Everard bet was to go anyhow if won $140, and in that case the sum due would have been $162.60.
It seems probable that something is omitted by mistake in your statement, because the sum you say was put up is not accounted for in the bets that preceded the Everard bet.
